

Personal Milestones

At five key moments during the HEC MBA Program, participants evaluate their mastery of key business competencies and reflect on their process of personal and professional development. Individual and group "milestone" sessions allow participants to assess their areas of strength and improve their skills. The first three milestones take place in the Core Phase, while the last two take place in the Personalized Phase. The milestone objectives are the following:

- Identify individual managerial profiles and set future objectives
- Weigh the different options for electives and projects
- Test business skills with cross-disciplinary cases
- Improve business knowledge
- Build networks with international business leaders through presentation sessions
- Provide individual career guidance.
