

Rahul Chopra (MBA 2008) – America/Canada

A top-ranked program with an international feel

When I was applying to MBA schools, I felt it was essential for me to find a mix between a top-ranked program with a very diverse and international feel. I must say that my decision to come to HEC was exactly what I was looking for and much more. The diversity of the student body as well as the academic program have made my few months here a very successful experience. I would encourage anyone who has visions of becoming a global business leader to attend HEC.
