

What elements are important in the evaluation process?

At the HEC MBA Program, we look for an overall balance between academic background, professional experience, international exposure (languages are a component but not all of it...), a strong personality, and last but not least, your motivation.